The Globalist Propaganda is in High Gear

As expected, the globalist propaganda machine is in high gear to keep up the brainwashing and programming of the masses to support war against Russia. The entire premise for this action in Ukraine, the real reason, has not even been brought up by the western press.

Russia could wait no longer and sent in a force to DEFEND the Donbas Republics and stop the daily slaughter of innocent people. The secondary reason was to prevent Ukraine and Nato establishing a war front against Russia with the setting up of nuclear missiles on Russia's border. These two issues are not even mentioned in the western press, absolutely none of them.

What we are witnessing is a propaganda campaign of historic proportions. The final goal is to exploit the horrors of war and justify the activation of Nato troops to fight directly against Russia and precipitate a nuclear war. It is obvious the globalists are hell bent on starting a nuclear war regardless of the cost to human lives.

The western nations, the international banks, and the corporations have all reached their peak industrial advancement in this current global economy. The only option they have left in their bag of tricks is to have a nuclear war and start over again.

This wipes the slate clean of debts and allows the banks to start a new process of loaning money out to "Build Back Better". A nuclear war also sets up a new form of governments with stricter controls and minimized lifestyles for the new peasant class in a socialist global plantation.

Make no mistake, what we are seeing now is a full court press to justify a major war against Russia. They will do everything they can to build an unavoidable case for war, even beyond the threshold of conventional warfare. The average citizen in all western countries have no ability to see through the lies, falsehoods and exaggerations in the conflict in Ukraine.

The news media is exploiting the horrors of war so the people will accept the western governments activating battle plans that will begin a stair step process leading to a nuclear exchange. In every step the public will shrug their shoulders and say to themselves: "Well, we had no choice."

The "bad" Russians aggressively invaded a free nation and are indiscriminately killing men, women and children. So, the government is right in stopping Russia by any means possible." This conclusion is founded on propaganda lies.

Let's set the record straight: Russia DID NOT INVADE Ukraine. Russia responded DEFENSEABLY to a Ukrainian force of 125,000 soldiers that surrounded the Donbas people, and were firing artillery shells against them for 8 YEARS.

During that siege 14,000 people died, along with an unknown number of children in the hundreds. Those deaths are directly attributable to western nations supporting that siege, including politicians from the US.

Our US politicians sent weapons and ammo to Ukraine to KILL Russian children in the Donbas area. This is a fact; it is not propaganda or media spin. This entire action was created by the globalists to entice and encourage Russia to respond - so a wider war would ensue, and the build-up towards confrontation would take place. The globalists baited Russia to defend the Donbas.

Once the bait was set, it was only a matter of time that Russia felt obligated to defend the Russian speaking Donbas Republics. It was a diabolical scheme with ulterior motives.

In the middle of this scheme was the death of children, not only in Donbas, but also in Ukraine. No one can deny that war is hell, and is a terrible thing that should be avoided at all costs. But when the rulers of nations behind the scenes can't get a targeted people to go to war, they must create and fabricate the reasons for war. And for the Russians, dead children tell no lies.

The blood of innocent children cries out from the grave for a holy vengeance founded on righteous indignation. To not defend the remaining children was unconscionable and unthinkable. For the Russians not to defend their people from genocide was not only wrong it was a dereliction of duty and criminal.

But the world doesn't see this point of view because they are never told this reality, ever. They are told a lie, and that lie establishes a mindset in the masses that they must destroy the "bad" Russians.

As things stand now, the Russians wanted to stop the war and have a conference with the Ukrainian leaders and offer them a cessation of conflict, with the assurances from Ukraine they would remain neutral in any future military issues between the two countries. This would have given the current leadership in Ukraine total control of their nation, their government would remain intact, and every one goes back to their families.

But so far, the leaders refused. Do you know what that actually means?

It means that the leader of Ukraine says to Russia: "No! I will never stop killing your children! I will never stop killing people that resist the globalist control of the world! We will fight to the death to help establish a one world government and kill anyone that wants independence and freedom!"

That is not patriotic stubbornness or bravery, it is a delusional act of those that believed a lie and are stupid enough to die for that lie. I'm not sure there is a cure for that.

So, I say to those that believe the corrupt politicians and the socialist news media lies, go ahead, close your eyes to the truth and march in lockstep over the cliff into nuclear oblivion.

You are no good in the defense of liberty - and as the mind is controlled, your lives have been forfeited. The world will forget you ever existed.
